DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 21, 22, 24, 26, and 28-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ham et al. (U.S. Patent 5,456,667, reference “40” on PTO-1449):

Ham et al. disclose a device comprising an elongated core wire 24 having distal and proximal ends; a coil tip 33 coupled to the distal end of the core wire 24; a cage assembly 12 having distal and proximal ends, and first deployment shape and second expanded shape (see Figures 1 and 1a); a tubular member or bushing (see Figure 1a) coupled to the distal end of the cage assembly, wherein the tubular member surrounds a distal portion of the core wire proximal the coil tip; and an actuator element having a first position and a second position, and located proximally to the cage assembly (see Figure 1). When the actuator is in the first position the cage assembly is in the first deployment shape and when the actuator is in the second position the cage assembly is in the second expanded shape. The core wire is freely moveable axially through the cage assembly (see Figures 1 and 1a). The device further comprises an inner coil 29 surrounding the elongated core wire within the cage assembly (see Figure 1a).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 23, 24, and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ham et al. (U.S. Patent 5,456,667, reference "40" on PTO-1449).

Ham et al. disclose the claimed invention except for the tubular member being made from thermoplastic material (claim 23) and the inner coil being made from a radiopaque material. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to construct the device of Ham et al. with the tubular member made from thermoplastic material and the inner coil made from a radiopaque material, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892 for art cited of interest.
